MISSOURI.

Missouri! Missouri! What dearer, nobler theme

Can wake the love and rouse the pride that patriots move?

Thy broad domain is fair as ever seen in poet's dream,
Or canvas holds of classic mountain stream and grove.

Missouri! Missouri! Unnumbered homes are blest Within thy bounds with daughters fair and manhood true;
Our Nation's honored flag is of no brighter star possessed Than that that shines for thee within its field of blue.

Imperial thou? No, Oh no! Fair Freedom's realm is thine; No Lord's anointed rules the children of thy soil;
The humblest and the least of these commands by right divine The recompense of manliness and honest toil.

Missouri! Missouri! 'Tis not thy wealth we boast As seen in crowded mart, in mine and teeming field;
Our pride is in thy stalwart, onward, conquering host, Resistless in the pow'r enlightened freemen wield.

Oh give us e'er the right to stay the honor of thy name,
And share in thee our loved Republic's envied fame!

Mr. Hilburn.

"There is one repellent feature in too many Socialists: they are fully convinced that those who do not agree with them are either knaves or fools. The Socialist press induces this impression and it does not facilitate the growth of the party. One may be mistaken and yet not be a fool; he may cling to long trained belief and yet not be a rogue."

Granted, Bro. Ake; and yet it seems to me that if you were an occupant of a boat adrift on the Niagara river, above the falls, and that if there were a dozen other occupants and they were all asleep or oblivious of the common danger, that you would strive with all your might to waken them to the danger of the situation; and if they didn't wake up and heed your warning you might become impatient in your zeal to save their lives and yours; you might become rude and unkind in your endeavor to convince them that they were in great and imminent danger. Forgive us, Bro.
Ake, we might allow you to go over the falls asleep, but we need you to help save the boat and incidentally to save our own precious hides.

We are being skinned to a finish, Bro. Ake, and we are tired of parting with our cuticle, and if we become rude, at times, forgive us. What we want to do, what every intelligent Socialist wants to do, is to induce everybody to study Socialism. We don't always use the best methods, I know, but to err is human, to forgive is divine.

The road seems so plain, too, that we sometimes forget how long it took us to make up our own minds to break away from old political ties that have challenged our love for a lifetime.
But is our ship of state in danger?
Observe the signs of the times.
The daily press has become a servile tool in the hands of plutoocracy. United States Senators, if favorable to wealth, may be seated, although elected by bribery.

We are practicing imperialism in the Philippines and we have an army massed on the borders of Mexico, ready to strike when the interests of wealth demand that the blow shall fall. Our citizens may be arrested without the forms of law and secretly whirled thousands of miles from home to be tried among strangers in a community prejudiced against their class. Our constitution is disregarded in favor of the rich, and the poor are denied its protection.
And your party has no program for the relief of these conditions, so far as I know, and you refuse to help us give our program a trial. Let us try it, Bro. Ake, and if it don't work we will help to discard it for something better.
One thing is sure—we are going over the precipice unless we wake up, discard our old prejudices, and, working together, row the boat ashore. F. P. HILBURN,

"Shall the Democratic Party be Aldrichized?"

The fight is on! Shall the democratic national convention of 1912 be controlled by an Aldrich democracy or shall it represent real democratic sentiment?

Although the democratic party has not controlled administrations in recent years its democratic platforms have given it a power possessed by no other party in history—the power to compel opposing parties to recognize the righteousness of its platforms.

This advantage has been won by the party's persistent fight for the people during the past 10 years.

To-day the American people are looking to the democratic party as the leader in real reforms.

Can the democratic party be trusted? The democratic national convention for 1912 will provide the answer.

The special interests that have wrecked the republican party are seeking to gain control of the democratic party.

If they find that the progressive sentiment is too strong to be entirely ignored they will take someone who has been progressive enough to furnish them something to talk about but not progressive enough to fight the interests.

After a long fight the progressive policies which aroused the opposition of all the predatory interests in 1896 are becoming the accepted policies of the country, but the interests will do their best to nominate a candidate who is not in sympathy with them and who tried to retard their progress.

The work of a democratic president will be no easy work. It will require strength of body, strength of mind and unflinching moral purpose. The times require a stalwart, fearless, progressive leader.

Congress will largely shape the issues and may develop the man, but whether he comes from the senate or the house, or from a state position or from private life, he must measure up to the requirements of the occasion and be able to summon the progressive hosts to his banner. He must be positive and progressive if he is to win the confidence of those who are seeking remedial legislation.

If you believe the democratic party should be true to its name you may help to win the fight to protect its national convention from the invading forces of those who would make the party the laughing stock of real democrats.

Mr. Bryan will do his part in the effort to protect the democratic party from "Aldrichism." On the stump and thro' his paper, The Commoner, he will insist that the progress made by the party the past sixteen years shall not be thrown away; that the special interests shall not control the convention; that its platform shall be honest and unequivocal and its candidates devoted to genuine democratic doctrine.

Mr. Bryan needs your help in this great fight. It is the people's fight to control their own government. Write us regarding the situation in your community and offer suggestions for promoting the democratic cause. New subscribers to The Commoner this month will have their names entered for a two-years' subscription at the one year rate—$1.00.

This carries you beyond the next presidential election and enables Mr. Bryan to keep in touch with you and to have your co-operation in this important struggle.
If you are not a subscriber to The Commoner, send $1 for a two-year ing to prevent the "Aldrichiza-tion" of the democratic party.

contemporary, "indicates the monstrosities of the program to which the rabid socialism of the times would carry this country."

The monstrosities of rabid socialism, then, were quite rare in this country a full half-century before Marx and Engel published the Communist Manifesto which is commonly regarded as the birth of these doctrines. Among the framers of the Federal Constitution, Charles Pickney, Mercer and Dickinson spoke against giving courts the power to set aside legislative acts; Edmund Randolph, Gerry and Mason refused to sign the Constitution, partly on the ground that no limit was set to judicial power. Madison declared that the legislature was as fit an interpreter of the Constitution as the courts. The doctrine that the courts, as sole interpreters of the Constitution, may annul legislative acts was described by Jefferson as "a very dangerous doctrine indeed, and one which would place us under the despotism of an obligarchy."

Were these fathers imbued with the monstrosities of rabid socialism? We think not. We think that our solemn contemporary was merely indulging a rather common habit of hurling violent language, without pausing to consider what it meant.—Saturday Even-

The bottom has fallen out of the the top to the bottom, and no top to scale off. Get a good one once and you won't have to build again.
